

Jott Networks Announces Notepad Application for Apple's App Store Voice Powered Note Taking and List Management for iPhone

Seattle, WA – July 10, 2008 – Jott Networks announces that its Jott for iPhone application is available today as a free download from the Apple App Store. Jott for iPhone offers a notepad that combines voice-input and innovative Multi-Touch technology to make keeping track of to-dos simple and convenient. The elegance and intuitiveness of the iPhone allowed Jott to use its world-class voice-to-text service to create a productivity tool that's always with you, is incredibly fast and works the way you do.

“What makes Jott for iPhone special is that it uses absolutely cutting-edge technology like voice input and the iPhone's revolutionary Multi-Touch user interface, yet is very natural to use,” said John Pollard, Jott CEO. “People love their pen and paper lists because ‘input’ is relatively easy, and crossing things off is a joy. With Jott for iPhone, you get that same satisfaction, but with all of the portability, syncing, and storage benefits of a web-based list.”

To record a note with Jott for iPhone, users simply tap anywhere on the screen to start and end a recording – no need to take one's eye off the task at hand. The recording is wirelessly sent to Jott for conversion to text-and a high quality text transcription appears moments later in the user's Jott notepad on the iPhone. Users also have the option of receiving an email copy of their notes. Jott for iPhone notes can be organized into lists, prioritized, or crossed-off with the swipe of a finger. The application wirelessly syncs with the Jott website, so customers have their lists backed up; current Jott customers will also have their lists pre-loaded when they open the application for the first time.

Taking full advantage of the elegant iPhone interface, Jott for iPhone offers the ability to “swipe to complete” any item in a list. Web and computer based to-do lists have long attempted to reproduce the satisfaction one gets when crossing off a task with clicks and check-boxes - “Swipe to Complete” gets it right.

Jott for iPhone will be available to iPhone users within the U.S. and Canada, and can be downloaded for free from Apple's App Store on the iPhone at www.itunes.com/appstore/. Whether one needs to keep track of expenses, work items, groceries or mileage, Jott for iPhone makes it easy no matter where you are.

About Jott

Jott Networks owns and operates Jott.com, a suite of mobile services designed to help balance the three pillars of a mobile life: information, organization and communication. Since its debut in 2006, Jott has made best in class voice-to-text services available to anyone with a phone. The Jott service includes the ability to post to web services like Google™Calendar and Twitter, listen to personalized RSS feeds from your phone, set email and text message reminders for yourself, and send hands free emails and text messages to your contacts. The company continues to gain appreciation from its customers and recognition from notable sources such as the New York Times, Wall Street Journal, and Time Magazine.